ALONGAN

The Class of 1971
is honored to present the

Avocan

Dedication

Most of us became acquainted with him in 10th grade with graphs, formulas, and what have you. Then as Juniors, we began to realize he was much more than just a good teacher. He was a very concerned individual. Concerned that everyone of his pupils got as much help and attention as he possibly could offer. He took time out of his private life to help us when we were stuck on a problem. He would set up special classes after school and give us individual help when we needed it. It is now our turn and great pleasure to give something to him.

We, the Class of 1971, are very proud to dedicate our yearbook, the AVOCAN, to Mr. Albert Bakeman.

Appreciation

In grade school, they taught how to play kickball and bombardment. As we grew older, they were always around to relieve us from our school work with an exciting game of soccer or softball. When we were old enough to try out for basketball, cheerleading, or some other sport, they were continuously encouraging us to try a little harder, and always giving us the extra boost of self confidence we so often needed. They taught us many things about sports, but most important, they taught us sportsmanship—how to lose as well as how to win. Not only are they our teachers, but they're our friends as well.

The Class of 1971 would like to express our deepest appreciation to Mrs. Helen Many and to Coach Marvin Skillman for the many things we have learned from them.

Our Principal

A sentence from DON QUIXOTE reads, "There is a time for some things and a time for all things; a time for great things and time for small things."

We seem to be at a time in history where it is difficult to separate "the great things from "the small things"; and to decide if it is time for "some things" or "all things."

We hope that the school has contributed in some way to help each of you to separate the important from the trivial; success in this process will determine your achievement in the future.

CAROL ANN FAIRBROTHER

Once she walked amongst us,
She passed us in the halls,
Though some did not know her,
They seemed to know her faults.

She always wore a smile,
(The friendliest one yet)
She always had it there,
For everyone she met.

Now she rests forever,
In such a peaceful land,
With love and forgiveness
No one here understands.

In Memoriam

Looking Back

In the beginning of the Freshman year, we were a little lost. But as the days continued, we found that we were becoming part of the everyday routine of "high school." The first money-making project was the Freshman calendars. It was good to hear some money jingle in the empty class treasury. In October, we were faced with the Freshman dance. We didn't know exactly what to do, but somehow THE FANTASTIC VOYAGE seemed to be on its way. When spring rolled around, we had the first Oriental Banquet, which has now become a tradition. If it had not been for Mr. Gross, we might not have had run so smoothly.

The next year we were Sophomores, as least most of us. Again our dance was the first of the year. We played our cards right and came up with THE NAME OF THE GAME. It proved to be a success. Oh those "wonderful" potatoes! How could we forget the mud and getting up on Saturday mornings to pick them?? This project helped our treasury, but we needed more money if we wanted to go anywhere. It was then that we decided to sell candy in the cafeteria.

The summer passed and we had finally become "upper classmen." As usual our dance was the first on the list. GRAFITTI was a fairly good success. Once more we came up with a change. The Junior plays. We got a couple of laughs and a few more dollars in our treasury. Besides this, we were again back in the potato fields and vinyards. When spring arrived we were faced with one of the busiest seasons of the year—the Prom, Spaghetti Supper, Jr.-Sr. Banquet, and the Alumni Banquet. Somehow we made it through.

Finally the day arrived when we realized it was the beginning of the end. It was great to be on top, but down deep inside, we felt a little shakey. We would never forget all the many hard times we had. But we could never forget the great times we had and the many things we had learned at A. C. S.

The Class of 1972

Well? What can be said? This class has held its own from earning money to paying debts. It seems to have followed in our footsteps all the way—not necessarily by the same method, but in a sense—right behind us, backing us up, to catch any who happen to stumble and fall. We truly appreciate its concern, wondering if we would finally make it. We did and now that we're leaving we can safely conclude that the rest of the underclassmen are being left in the hands of a strong competent class.

Sincerely,
Class of '71

Not very interesting, is it?

The Class of 1973

This group of students seems ready to attack any problem with full impact and either accomplish the task or bow to it. In either case the class regains its confidence for a new goal to achieve. Determination is what these students have. They intend to get to the top no matter what obstacles are placed in front of them. A few might trip on the way, but eventually they'll make it one way or another. We admire your stamina and bid you good tidings in the future.

Best wishes,

Homeroom is a pain in the neck, huh, John?

HOW?!

The Class of 1974

And they thought they had only 20 students in their class. It has come to their attention that classes have a definite identity and they have attained theirs. It is too soon to make any diagnosis of their case, but they seem ready and rarin' to go. Their first real year of high school is almost over and it seems such a long way to the top, but with a little enthusiasm (which they have displayed in their daily routines) they can follow closely behind the Class of 1973. Keep the faith!

Good luck,

Varsity Basketball

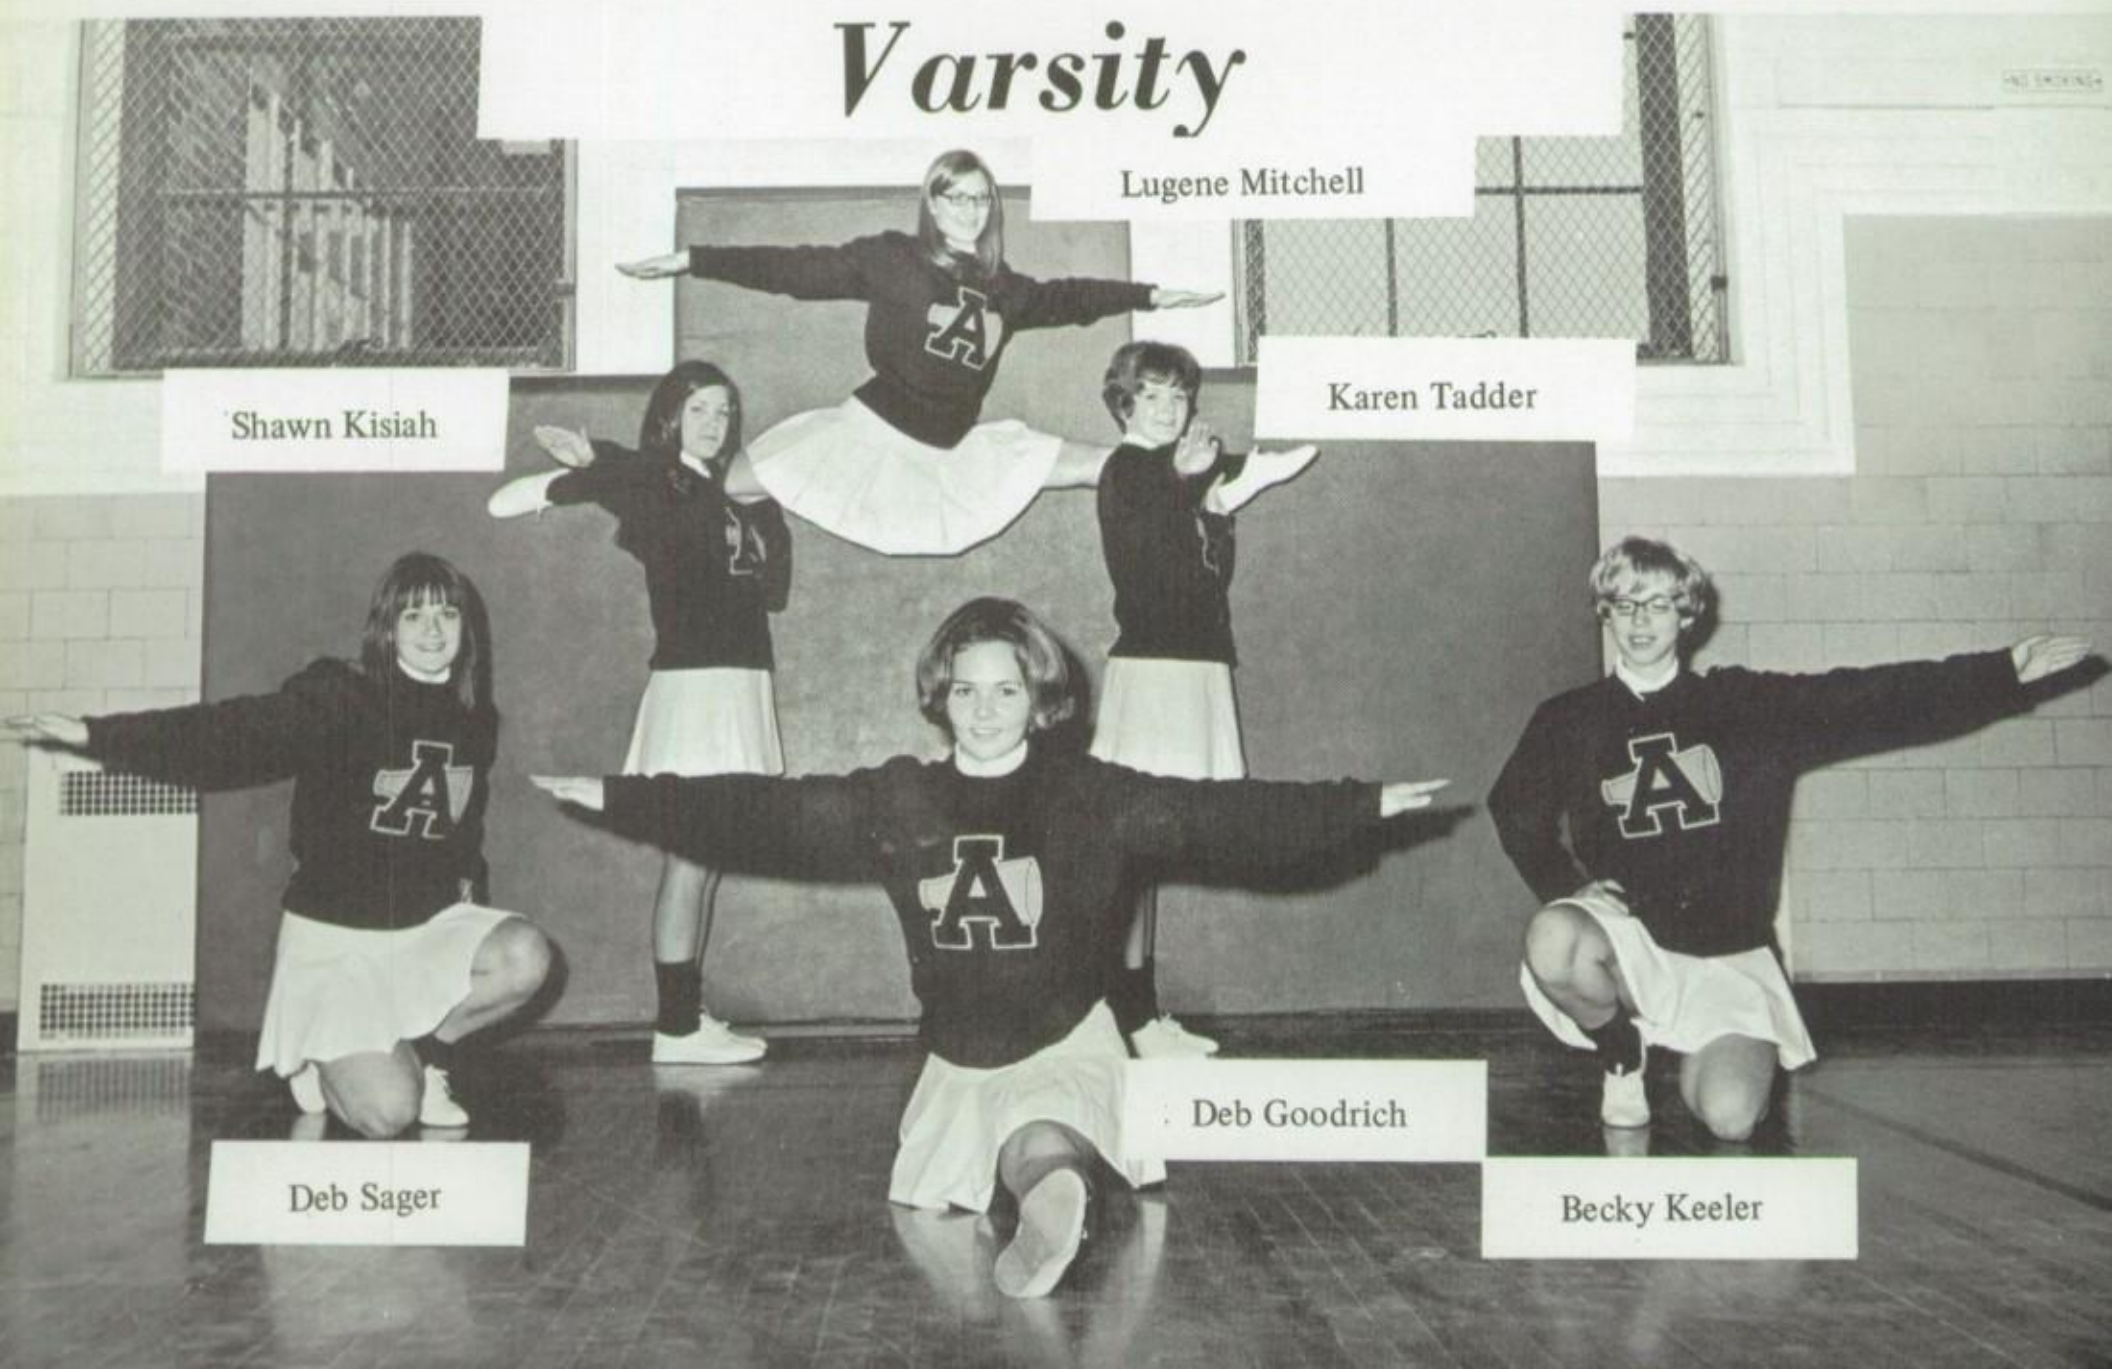

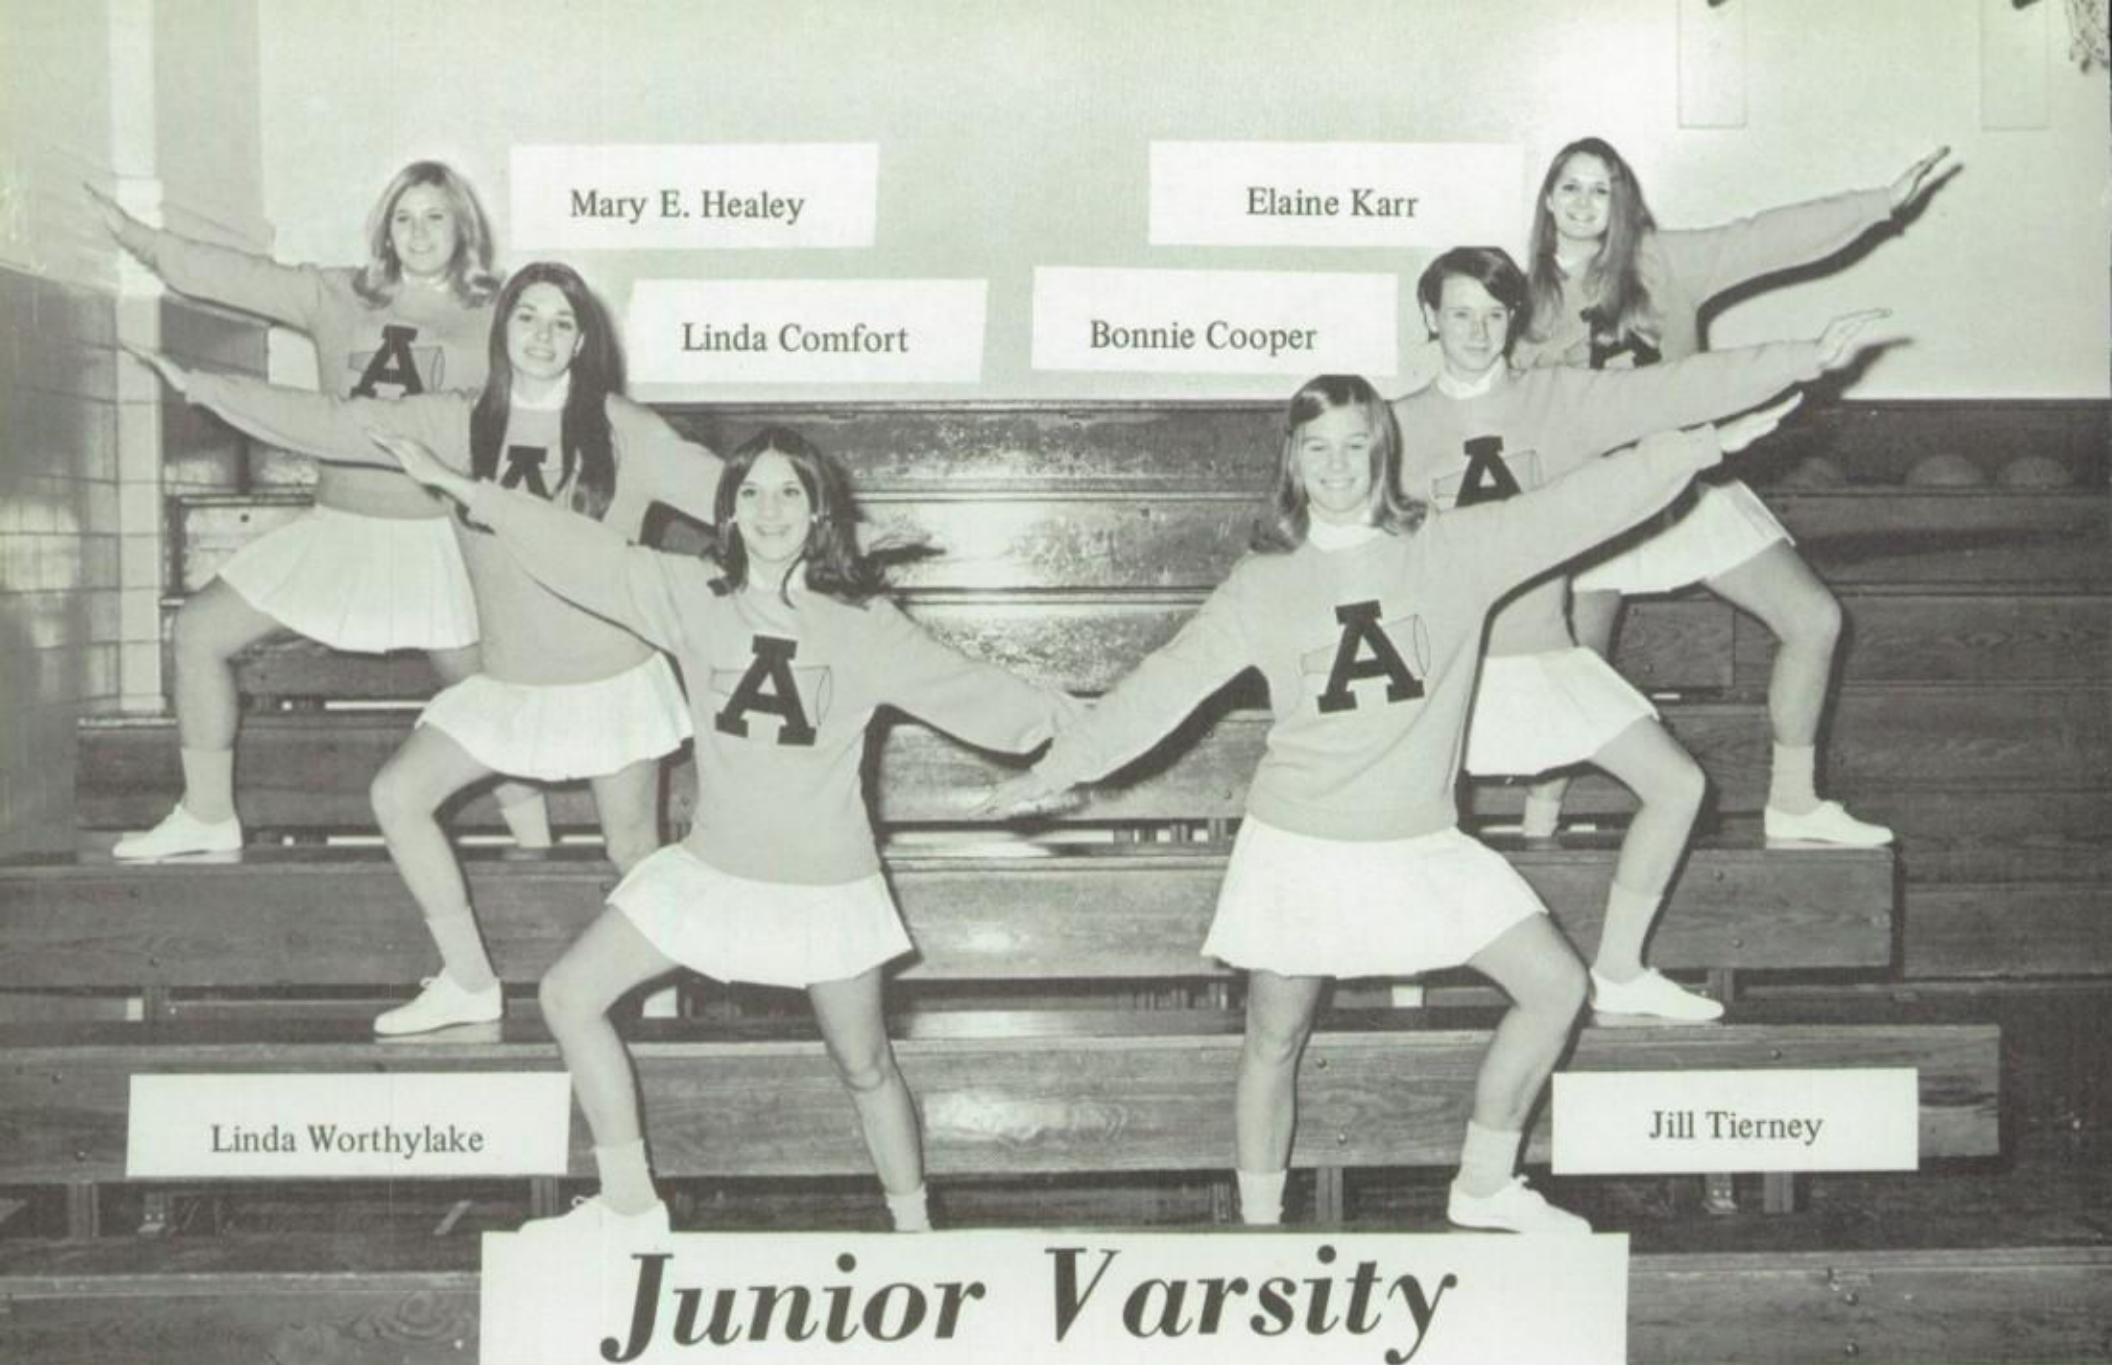

"We're Number One!" was the chant, as the 1969-1970 basketball season brought Avoca its very first Section Five basketball championship. The team ended the season with a 21-1 record, which included a string of 18 consecutive victories. Seven team records were set, yet no individual records were established, and this goes to prove it was certainly a team effort.
